About The Seminar

Travel has transformed from a necessity for survival to a means driven by political, economic, religious, social, and cultural factors. India's unique geography and rich diversity make it a prime destination for tourism, rooted in its historical significance for major religions. As the world's fourth largest economy and poised to become third, India has substantial potential in the labor-intensive tourism sector. Historically, various civilizations have visited India, highlighting its culture and wealth. However, rapid industrialization and urbanization pose challenges, including environmental concerns, as seen in the recent ecological issues in Uttarakhand and Himachal Pradesh. To ensure sustainable tourism and preserve cultural heritage, legislative and judicial actions are crucial for addressing these challenges. Keeping in mind the dynamism of the Tourism Sector in India and its exponential growth prospects, the Department of History at Doctor Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyala, Sagar, Madhya Pradesh has espoused to organise a two-day National seminar on the theme 'Revisiting the Travelogue of Tourism in India: Trends, Challenges, Prospects & Management' in Hybrid Mode from 24th to 25th February, 2026.
